Select Poetry.

The Wife that Meets One at the Door.

I never leave my home a day,
Howe'er with others it may be—
But what I get when I come back,
Welcoming smile and hearty smack,
That make me love, still more and more,
The wife that meets me at the door.

Her dress is always neat and clean—
A pretty wife, and yet not vain—
And when she sings my favorite song,
How sure am I the man is wrong,
Who weds not—be he rich or poor,
The wife to meet him at the door.

The little chickens run to meet,
And pick the crumbs up at her feet;
Old Towser licks her proffered hand,
And frolics 'round her in the sand;
There's nothing like, I've said before,
A wife that meets one at the door.

In social hall her smiling face
In every heart quick wins a place;
The gayest lad that wears the green
Will tip his hat when she is seen,
And hopes to meet, when teens are o'er,
Just such a wife at his own door.

Select Miscellany.

The Object of True Learning.

The object is to beget manhood; the means are indifferent, so that the end is secured. How shall it be done? How does the son of the poor man rise amid all his disadvantages of birth and position to wealth, eminence, and honor? By labor. How does the son of the wealthy, in spite of all his advantages, descend to poverty, disgrace and reproach? Through his inability to labor. Without books or schoolmasters, the one is educated and elevated; with them, the other is depressed and degraded. The difference is, labor. The one is able to comply with the first great law of his being; the other is not. Labor is, therefore, education in its truest sense. The man who knows not how to labor, knows nothing; the man who knows how to labor, has within his reach the elements of everything. He who has not learned to support himself by industry—which not merely includes the knowledge of some branch of human employment, but the capacity to apply himself to it for the production of substantial results—is, however elaborately, he may have penetrated into books of science, uninstructed in that which is, and will be, until the entire constitution of humanity is changed, the thing, of all others, first in importance to mankind. Let not the poor boy, weary at the plowtail, or in the workshop, and longing for learning, repine. His labor, and the habits of corsecutive industry which he is acquiring, are the best of all education—the highest foundation of personal independence, without which there is no manhood; and his very longing for that knowledge which seems beyond his reach is, of itself, discipline of no common value. What the mind goes out eagerly for, it either gets, or its equivalent; and the man who earnestly strove for excellence, however meagre his means and opportunities, never failed of his reward in a commensurate improvement.

The practice of consecutive schooling, year after year, with the expectation of making the educated and useful man, is undoubtedly wrong, and will often end in disappointment. The child put to school at an early age, readily masters the rudiments—letters, reading, and numeration—which require little more than an effort of the memory. His mind then manifests a disposition to rest, the activity of his nature being transformed to his physical organization. If then he is pressed forward to tasks and lessons, both body and mind are liable to be dwarfed and narrowed by the process, and instead of enlargement, contraction is the almost certain result. His capacity to learn, as by the judicious it is sometimes called, is simply a temporary continence of memory, acquired at the expense of the other faculties. Now is the time to teach him labor. This is indicated by the expansion of his body and its demand for active employment. The labor should be a productive kind, and such as requires attention and the endurance of fatigue, without overtaxing his energies and driving him to indolence through disgust. The demands of the body being satisfied, the mind again awakes, and thus, instead of being opposing elements in the progress of the man towards his perfect condition, each acts as the friend and auxilliary of the other, and expansion and development go on efficiently and symetrically.—Henry Reed.

☞ Bulwer says:—"Of all the agonies in life, that which is the most harrowing and poignant which for the time annihilates reason and leaves our whole organization one lacerated mangled heart, is the conviction that we have been deceived where we have placed all the trusts of love."

☞ Provoking—To dream that you have lots of money, and then wake up and find yourself a printer.

A Curious Oath—Pledge of the Horse Thieves.

Two men, named Rousch and Holly, were arrested in this city Sunday. They appear to belong to a band of thieves, and the following is the oath of the clan:

"In the name of the Power above, and in the name of all his hosts of angels and ministers, whom I invoke to bear record of my words; in the name of him below, whom we fear and whom we hate, I swear:

"I swear that from this moment to the end of my life I devote myself, without any reserve, to the fancy reform; that I will never leave it without the consent of my captain; that in sickness or in heal h, in adversity or prosperity, I will never leave, quit, or resign, without the consent of my captain. I will obey my captain, even unto death, in all transactions; I will be found by the laws he has established, and in all my doings I will act in strict conformity with the regulations he has made; and I invoke these powers, in the event of my failing to fulfill this, my oath, to shower down all the curses to which human nature is susceptible; may all the maladies in which lingering wretches who crave to die still exist, be my fate; may my days be restless, my nights sleepless, the pains and agonies of hell goad me on to desperation, my limbs wither from my body, my body paralyzed with sickness, my breath tainted, my eyeballs sightless, my soul damned, if I fail in anything I have sworn; but all I implore that your power to shower upon me ten thousand times the miseries that mortals ever imagined, if I, by word, thought, or deed, or design, betray one of my brethren or captain, or raise my hand or voice to witness against him in a court of justice, may my tongue rot from its root to the lip, and leave me a speechless liar, if I am in this guilty; but I swear to state all that is false, unless the truth can benefit the prisoner; to this in all and every part I swear; to every word and sentence I swear, by Him above, by him below, by all that rules, by all that serves, I swear."
—Cincinnati Inquirer.

The Feelings in Battle.

"Our officers kept us back, for we were not numerous enough to charge upon the enemy. This was, moreover, most prudent, for this murderous fire—so fatal to the white coats—did us but little harm. Our conical balls penetrated their dense masses, while those of the Austrians whistled past our ears and respected our persons. It was the first time I had faced fire, nor was I the only one. Well, I am satisfied with myself. True, I dodged the first balls, but Henry IV., they say did the same at the beginning of every battle. It is, in fact, a physical effect, independent of the will.

"But, this tribute paid, if you cold only feel how each shot electrifies you. It is like a whip on a racer's legs. The balls whistle past you, turn up the earth around you, kill one, wound another, and you hardly notice them. You grow intoxicated, the smell of gunpowder mounts your brain. The eye becomes bloodshot, and the look is fixed upon the enemy.—There is something of all the passions in that terrible passion excited in a soldier by the sight of blood and the tumult of battle.

"Everybody who has tried it, testifies to the peculiar intoxication that is produced by being in a battle. There is an infatuating influence about the smell of powder, the shrill whistle of a bullet, and the sight of human blood, that instantly transforms men from cowards to heroes—from women sometimes to monsters. None can tell of the nature or mystery of that influence but those who have been in the fray themselves."

DYING.—Benjamin F. Taylor, of the Chicago Journal, draws the following beautiful picture in reference to the certain departure for that "undiscovered country:"

"There is a dignity about that going away alone, which we call dying—that wrapping of the mantle of immortality about us; that putting aside with a pale hand the azure curtains that are drawn around this cradle of a world; that venturing away from home for the first time in our lives: for we are not dead; there is nothing dead to speak of, and seeing foreign countries not laid down on any maps we know about. There must be lovely lands somewhere eterward, for none ever return that go thither; and we very much doubt if any would if they could."

HUSBAND AND WIFE.—Between you two let no third person come to share the secret grief or joy that belongs to your two hearts alone. Let neither father, mother, brother, nor sister be the confidant of that which concerns your domestic peace. Bear all things, suffer all things; but in silence and sadness. Let a moment of alienation, or years of estrangement, be healed and forgotten in after moments and years of intense love; but never let the wall of another's confidence be built up between you and your wife's or husband's heart.

A Tough Story.

There is a place in Maine so rocky, that when the down easters plant corn, they they look for crevices in the rocks, and shoot the grains in with a musket; can't raise ducks there no how, for the stones are so thick that the ducks can't get their bills between them to pick up the grasshoppers, and the only way that the sheep can get at the sprigs of grass is by grinding their noses on a grindstone.

But that ain't a circumstance to a place on the Eastern shore; there land is so poor, that it takes two kildees to say "kildea;" and on a clear day you can see the grasshoppers climb up a mullen stalk, and look with tears in their eyes over a fifty acre field; and the humble-bees have to go down on their knees to get at the grass; all the mosquitoes died of starvation, and the turkey buzzards had to emigrate.

But there is a county in Virginia which can beat that,—there the land is so sterile that when the wind is at the northwest, they have to tie the children to keep them from being blown away; there it takes six frogs to see a man, and when the dogs bark they have to lean against the fence; the horses are so thin that it takes twelve of them to make a shadow, and when they kill a beef they have to hold him up to knock him down!

But oh!—there is a region in Jersey, saith Moes Daper, where they held a two weeks jubilee in the churches, because it was announced that a fresh blade of grass had sprouted in the southern part of the county. There the natives once murdered a traveler for the sake of half a gingerbread cake, which he was rumored to have in his pocket and there, too, they turned a man "out of meeting" because after a visit to Philadelphia, he reported that while in the city he had had at one time as much as he could eat. Sitch is life.

Eloquent Extract.

The best thing yet written by Edward Everett, in his "Mount Vernon Papers," is an article on the late comet. After describing its approach to the earth and the beautiful picture it presented, he says; "Return, then, mysterious traveler, to the depths of the heavens, never again to be seen by the eyes of men now living! Thou hast run thy race with glory! Millions of eyes have gazed on thee with wonder—but they shall never look upon thee again. Since thy last appearance in these skies, empires, language and races of men have died away; the Macedonian, the Alexandrian, the Augustan, the Parthian, the Byzantine, the Saracenic the Ottoman dynasties have sunk or sinking into the gulf of ages. Since thy last appearance old continents have relapsed into ignorance and new worlds have come out from behind the level of waters. The Malaian fires are quenched on the hill tops of Asia; the Chaldean is blind; the Egyptian hieroglyphic has lost his cunning; the Oracles are dumb. Wisdom now dwells in the farthest Thules, or in newly discovered worlds beyond the sea. Haply, when wheeling up again from the celestial abysses, thou art once more seen by the dwellers of the earth, the language we speak shall be forgotten, and science shall have fled to the utmost corners of the earth. But even there His hand, that now marks out thy wondrous circuit, shall still guide thy course; and then, as now Hesper will smile at thy approach, and Arcturus with his sons rejoice at thy coming."

A POETIC GEM.—In the way of true, forcible and poetic similes, the following, by Adelai de Proctor, has not been often surpassed. A boy is speaking of the infantile recollections of his dead mother:

The mere thought
Of her great love for me has brought
Tears in my eyes. Though far away,
It seems as it were yesterday.
And just as when I look on high
Through the blue silence of the sky,
Fresh stars shine out, and more and more
Where I could see so few before;
So, the more steadily I gaze,
Upon those far off misty days,
Fresh words, fresh tones, fresh memories
Start before my eyes and in my heart.

PRETTY EXPERIMENT.—If an acorn be suspended by a piece of thread within half an inch of the surface of some water contained in a hyacynth glass and so permitted to remain without being disturbed it will in a few months burst and throw a root down into the water and shoot upwards its tapering stem with beautiful little green leaves. A young oak tree, growing in this way on the mantle shelf of a room, is a very interesting object.

☞ Love is neither crime nor folly.—Unrequitted love may be inexpedient, and she may be weak who indulges it, but there was never a heart in which true love had dwelt that was not purified and made noble by its influence. The sin and crime in the world, ordinarily ascribed to love, should be ascribed to the absence of it.

☞ Mrs. Partington asks, very indignantly, if the bills before Parliament are not counterfeit, why should there be such a difficulty in passing them?

Peace at Home.

It is just as possible to keep a calm house as a clean house, a cheerful house, an orderly house, as a furnished house, if the heads set themselves to do it. Where is the difficulty of consulting each other's wants?—each other's temper, as well as each other's health?—each other's comfort, as well as each other's character?—Oh! it is by leaving the peace of home to chance, instead of pursuing it as a system, that so many houses are unhappy. It deserves notice that almost any one can be courteous, and forbearing, and patient in a neighbor's house. If anything go wrong, or be out of time, or disagreeable there, it is made the best of, and not the worst; even efforts are made to excuse it, and to show that it is not felt, or if felt it is attributed to accident, not design; and this is not only easy but natural in the house of a friend. We will not therefore believe that what is so natural in the house of another, is impossible at home; but maintain without fear that all courtesies of social life may be mantained in domestic society. A husband as willing to be pleased at home, and as anxious to please as in his neighbor's house; a wife as intent to making things comfortable every day to her family, as on set days to her guests, could not fail to make their own home happy.

Let us not evade the point of these remarks by recurring to the maxim about allowances for temper. It is worse than folly to refer to our temper, unless we could prove that we ever gained anything good by giving way to it. Fits of ill humor pain us quite as much, if not more, than those they are vented upon; and it actually requires more effort, and inflicts more pain to give them up, than would be requisite to avoid them.

WHAT WE CALL DUTIES.—Every man ought to pay his debts—if he can.

Every man ought to help his neighbor—if he can.

Every man and woman ought to get married—if they can.

Every man should be honest and sober—if they can.

Every man should do his work to suit his customers—if he can.

Every man should please his wife—if he can.

Every wife should rule her husband—if she can.

Every lawyer should tell the truth—if he can.

Every preacher should be a christian—if he can.

And finally, every reader may attend to the above—if he can.

RECEIPT FOR MAKING TATTLERS.—Take a handful of the vine called Runabout, the same quantity of the root called Nimble Tongue, a sprig of the herb called Backbite, at either before or after dog days, a table spoonful of Don't-you-tell-it, six drachms of Miiace, a few drops of Envy—which can be purchased in any quantity at the shop of Miss Tabitha Teatable and Miss Fanny Nightwalker.—Stir them well together and simmer them for half an hour over the fire of Discontent, kindled with a little Jealousy; then strain it through the rag of misconstruction, hang it upon a skein of Strectyarn, shake it occasionally for a few days, and it is fit for use. Let a few drops be taken just before walking out, and the subject will be enabled to speak all manner of evil, and that continually.—Mahon Mes.

A CLEAR CONSCIENCE.—How bravely a man can walk the earth, bear the heaviest burdens, perform the severest duties, and look all men square in the face, if he only bears in his breast a clear conscience—a conscience void of offense to God or man. There is no spring, no spur, no inspiration like this. To feel that we have omitted no just task, and left no obligation unfulfilled, this fills the heart with satisfaction, and the soul with strength. Conscience, it is said, makes cowards of us all—but only cowards when it reproaches us with unmanliness—some shrinking from truth and right, and the commission of some wrong.

TO YOUNG LADIES.—I have found that the men who are really the most fond of the society of the ladies, who cherish for them a high respect, are seldom the most popular with the sex. Men of great assurance, whose tongues are highly hung, who make words supply the place of ideas; and place compliment in the room of sentiment, are the favorites. A due respect for women leads to respectful action toward them—and respectful is usually distant action, and this great distance is mistaken by them for neglect or want of interest.—Addison.

☞ De Quincy being asked why there were more women than men, replied, "It is in conformity with the arrangements of nature; we always see more of heaven than earth."

☞ He who would abandon a project or be swayed from an honest purpose by the jeers and frowns of others, is not worthy of a position in the society of men.

Postal Reforms.

Within the past year, two reformations in our postal regulations have been suggested, both of which have their advantages as well as impracticabilities. First. we notice that of taking the Post Office Department entirely from under the control of the general government and placing it in the hands of Express Companies, or companies formed specially for the purpose, allowing said companies to appoint post masters, at the different points where post offices are established, in the same manner as Express Agents are now appointed, giving them all the revenue derived therefrom and making them responsible for all matter passing through the mails. The fact that the general government, while it exercises due care and endeavors to prevent the loss of money or other valuables passing through the mails, is not responsible in case of losses occurring, neither can be made so, is one of the strongest arguments in favor of the proposed change; while on the other hand it is urged that Express companies, or those formed for the purpose, as before stated, being private carriers, could be held responsible, and thus a better guarantee be afforded the public of the safe delivery of all valuables delivered for transmission. Another argument in favor of this system is, that the Post Office Department is an expense to the government—that the revenue derived therefrom is not sufficient to pay the expenses of the department, and that an appropriation from the revenues of other departments is required each year to keep it up. This is a good argument, and one which, if the system proposed should not work disadvantageously to some portions of the country, as we shall show, would be sufficient to at once cause the adoption of the new system, or any other offering equal advantages and guarantees. The disadvantages of this system to certain portions of the country, would be experienced in finding companies willing to carry the mails through sparsely settled portions of the western States, where there would be but little mail matter, and consequently but little revenue, and the expenses of transmission naturally increased. The reports of the P. O. Department show that the revenue derived from the Southern States does not pay the expenses of transmitting the mails, while in the Northern States there is a large excess of revenue, which is appropriated to make up the deficit of the Southern States. Thus it will be seen that were such a system as proposed adopted, a portion of the country would be without carriers, as it is not likely that any company would accept of a contract by which it would lose money.—To overcome this, it is proposed to increase the price of postage; but this would be manifestly unjust. In general, those who would be compelled to pay the increase are those who are least able to do so. To us the system proposed appears impracticable, although we much desire the adoption of one which would relieve our general government of this burden and afford equal guarantees of safety to mail matter without manifest injury to any portion of the country. Again, it is urged that this department of our government, on account of the number of persons employed therein, is converted into one of the most dangerous political vehicles in the country, by the party in power. This is true; and pity 'tis, 'tis true. But on this we will not dwell; as we presume all who take an interest in such matters know full well how partizan friends are rewarded thereby, and the will of the people often disrespected.

This brings us to the consideration of the second reformation proposed, viz:—the election of Postmasters. To this the objection is raised that the Constitution vests in the President the right to appoint ambassadors, public ministers, consuls and other United States officers, including postmasters. True, but this is the right which the reformation spoken of proposes to take away from him and vest in the people at large. It is argued that the people gave to the country the constitution, and the people can take it away, alter or abridge it to suit themselves. We believe that at this time public opinion demands such a change. In how many instances are persons appointed to the important position of postmasters, simply on account of services rendered the party in power, who are notoriously incompetent and exceedingly objectionable to the whole community in the vicinity of the office. Had the people the privilege of chosing their officer in this capacity, the majority would always be satisfied. To effect such a change would require an amendment to the Constitution, and we believe it should be made, at least the question should be agitated. Such an alteration in the mode of selecting the officers referred to, could make the matter no worse than it is at present, but might be productions of much good.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR AT HARRISBURG.—We learn from the Harrisburg Telegraph of Saturday last, that a tragedy, involved in considerable mystery, is now the prevailing sensation in that place. It appears that a short time since, a colored woman was imprisoned in Carlisle. While in jail she disclosed the fact that about eighteen months since, while she was employed as servant in the house of Mrs. Black, of Harrisburg, two gamblers, one of them named Knox, came to the house, accompanied by a stranger, for the purpose of gambling for money. During the evening a quarrel arose between them.—The stranger drew a knife, and Knox a pistol. Knox fired and shot the stranger through the head, killing him instantly. The colored girl says she has been prevented from telling the story heretofore by bribes and threats. The girl was brought from Carlisle to Harrisburg where she repeated the story. Knox being in Philadelphia, a despatch was sent to the Mayor to have him arrested, which was promptly done. Search was made for the body of the murdered man in the place where the girl said it had been buried, but no trace of it could be found. Knox was brought before Judge Pearson on a writ of habeas corpus, on Saturday afternoon, where he entered bail in three securities to the amount of $15,000, to appear at Court and answer the charge of murder.

JOHN S. DYE.—We notice that our cotemporory, of the Erie City Dispatch, is after this double-dyed scoundrel, (who edits a Bank Note Detector in New York,) with a piece of timber which is sharp at both ends. We gave the same individual a "puff" in our "black list," some two years since. The man who trusts to his Director will be grossly deceived. It is as great a swindle as its author. Fortunately, we believe none of them are sent to this section, and hope there never will be. He cheated every printer in the country with whom he had dealings, and the man who will systematically cheat the printer will cheat everybody else but the d—l; he can't cheat him.

WORK FOR THE NEXT CONGRESS.—The National Legislature, at is next session, will have considerable service to perform in the way of creating new governments, State and Territorial. No less than four Territories and two States will ask recognition. The people of Southern Nebraska, disappointed in gaining annexation to Kansas, are moving for a State Government. The Governor is about to call an extra session of the Legislature that the work may be regularly commenced. They intend to apply for admission in company with Kansas. In addition, the people of Jefferson, Arizona, Dacotah and Nevada, are also anxious for Territorial Governments.

☞ We have received from our young friend, James Ritchie, formerly of this place, now among the Rocky Mountains, a copy of the Rocky Mountain Gold Reporter and Mountain City Herald, published at Mountain City, Jefferson, (the name given to the new Territory about to be organized by the Pike's Peakers.) It is about half the size of the Tribune, and is published at 10 cents a single copy, $2,50 a year at the office, or $3,00 if mailed to the States. Advertisements are inserted at the rate of 25 cents per line for first insertion, and 10 cents per line afterwards. Our advertisers would consider these prices pretty steep.

☞ Gen. Houston's victory in Texas is even more sweeping than was at first reported. Of one hundred counties, from which returns had been received on the 16th instant, he had majorities in all but twenty-one, and it was believed that his total majority might reach 12,000.

HARD ON GRAIN SPECULATORS.—The Chicago Press and Tribune says that since the 15th day of last May, the price of standard wheat has fallen in that market seventy-four cents per bushel! It says that the result to grain dealers and speculators has been very disastrous all along the lakes, and that the losses at Chicago, Milwaukie, Racine, and other points, cannot be less than half a million of dollars.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

☞ Judging from the accounts published in the papers of Huntingdon, the rowdies of that place must be equal to those of Baltimore.

☞ Burned—a whiskey distillery, at Jersey City, on Saturday a-week. Loss, $20,000 in money; morality nothing.

☞ The new Reformed Church, at Martinsburg, in this county, will be dedicated with appropriate exercises on Saturday, Sept. 24th.

☞ There are ten million dollars worth of property in Philadelphia exempt from taxation. The city has three hundred and ten churches.

☞ Pretty nearly all men are benevolent when it don't cost them much. Tom never sees poor John suffer but he thinks that Sam ought to help him.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher says, "A man never has good luck who has a bad wife," which probably accounts for the very great number of unfortunate occupants of this planet.

☞ Wien Forney has retired from the Central Press, Bellefonte, and is succeeded by his partner, Mr. Kurtz, who intends going it alone hereafter.

☞ Col. A. G. Curtin, Hons David Taggart, Levi Cline, John Covode and Dr. Gazzam are spoken of in connection with the nomination for Governor, next year, by the Peoples party.

☞ One of the Railroads in New York, is said to be the safest in the world, as the Superintendent keeps a boy running ahead of the trains to drive off the calves and sheep!

☞ The receipts of wheat at Chicago, from the 1st to the 20th of August, reach 405,000 bushels, against 139,000 bushels for the entire month of July.

☞ "I have been to the capitol to see your friend sworn into office," said a politician to an opponent, on the evening of the 4th of March. "Yes, and I have been to see yours go swearing out."

☞ Bro. bell, of the Star, hopes that Bro Nash, of the American, won't get Spear'd in his engagement with the Union. If Nash gets Spear'd, Speer will stand a good chance to get (g)Nash'd.

☞ Steam power has been applied to sewing machines. An upright engine has been introduced into a clothing manufactory at Albany, which occupies the space of about one cubic foot, and works several sewing machines to perfection.

☞ The Reading (Pa.) Gazette says that a snapping turtle, the largest ever caught in Berks county, weighing 22 lbs., and "able to crawl with a man on his back," was secured a few days ago in the vicinity of Kurtz town.

☞ Whilst a congregation was worshipping in a Dutch Church in Rochester, one day last week, the floor gave way at the centre, sliding all the worshippers into one mass and then popped them in a heap to the basement floor. Singular to relate, no one was seriously injured.

☞ The daughter of the proprietor of a coal mine, in Pennsylvania, was inquisitive as to the nature of hell. Upon which her father represented it to be a large gulf of fire of most prodigious extent.

"Pa," said she, "couldn't you get the devil to buy his coal of you?"

☞ The following is true of more things than one in every day life:—"You charge a dollar for killing a calf, you smutty rascal," said a planter to an old negroe. "No, no, Massa," replied the gentleman from Africa, "charge fifty cents for killing calf, and fifty cents for the know how."

☞ A Yankee in Brooklyn has invented a machine which changes money. It is used by railroad conductors who receive and give change for fare without once handling the coin. Wonder if he couldn't invent a machine to pay passengers fare for them. It would be very acceptable.

☞ Georgia is probably the lightest taxed State in the Union. Its State tax is only two-thirds of a mill on the dollar. A man owning $10,000 worth of property pays only $6 62 taxes. Georgia is one of the most flourishing States, also, rapidly rising in manufactures as in agriculture.

☞ A darkey on his way to the colored campmeeting at Huntingdon, a short time since, accidentally, of course, rolled up Hon. John Covode's shawl along with his baggage when he got off the cars at Huntingdon Station, and did not discover his mistake until the constable took him on a "whereas," He then forked over.

☞ The following is the verbatim, et literatim, et punctuatim, et spelatim, et capitalim direction on a letter dropped into the Post Office in this place, a few days since:

MunGumerey Counttey

☞ The inevitable Parson Brownlow is again extant, though in rather a damaged condition. He is now at the Virginia Springs for the benefit of his voice, which he has almost entirely lost; but he says he intends to raise it against Locofocoism as long as he can, and when he can no longer speak, he intends to make mouths at the rascally concern!

☞ Went up Feet Foremost—A Mr. Hall, an Ereonaut, after a successful ascension from Newcastle-on-Tyne, descended about seven miles from the place of starting. Thinking his balloon was fast, Mr. Hall was just stepping to the ground when it arose, taking him up by the feet, to the height of about one hundred feet, when he fell to the ground and was taken up unconscious, although hopes were entertained of his recovery. After he was thrown out, the balloon ascended, carrying with it a little dog belonging to the Ereonaut.

☞ Another "champion" has turned up.—A negro in Sandusky, one day last week, eat ninety large peaches on a wager of $250. He arose from the repast apparently refreshed, and resumed his artistic avocation as boot-black, amid the enthusiastic cheers of a large and enlightened concourse of his fellow-citizens.

☞ "The Rocky Mountains," says Horace Greeley, "with their grand, aromatic forests, their glassy glades, their frequent springs, and dancing streams of the brightest, sweetest water, their pure, elastic atmosphere, and their unequaled game and fish, are destined to be a favorite resort of civilized man. I never visited a region where physical life could be more surely prolonged or fully enjoyed."

☞ F. D. Rutter, residing near Orbisonia, Huntingdon Co., advertises a stray horse and carriage, which were left at his house on the 27th ult., by an unknown man, who had with him a woman and child, and was rather a suspicious character. He left in the night and has not been heard of since. We have read several notices of horses and carriages disappearing in different parts of the country, without the owners consent, and quite likely this is one of them.

☞ Horrible—The telegraph has mentioned that a man named Jock Murphy, who was convicted of murder in Henderson, Ky., was executed on Friday week. The Henderson Reporter states that the culprit's neck was not broken by the fall. After he had been suspended ten minutes, he changed his handkerchief from one hand to the other, and made signs which were not understood. After hanging 27 minutes he was cut down.

☞ Mr. Prentice, of The Louisville Journal, who knows as well as any man the virtues of "old Monongahela," envies the Pittsburghers their glorious supply of his favorite beverage. He says: "The Pittsburghers are fortunate; they get their delicious, pure drinking water from the Allegheny River, which bounds one side of their city, and are supplied with exhaustless quantities of Monongahela, which lave the other."

☞ A day or two ago a party out riding stopped at one of the hotels in Copake, Columbia County, New York, when four young ladies, in company, repaired to an out-house in the vicinity, where they had no sooner entered than the floor gave way, and the whole party were precipitated into the vault below. They were unable to extricate themselves from their unpleasant situation, and must have perished, had not their cries attracted the attention of some men who were near, and who went to their assistance, and rescued them.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENT.—We were seated in the magnetic telegraph office on Friday night last, about the time of the appearance of the aurora boreallis—between 9 and 10 o'clock, and our attention was called to experiments which Mr Sees, the operator, was making. In order to test the relative effect or power of the electricity whilst the aurora was at its height, or rather the most brilliant, he moved a little lever (called the circuit breaker,) which plays over a brass plate having an ivory knob in its centre, and which is used for the purpose of breaking off the connection between the several wires; as this lever was moved to the ivory knob there would be most brilliant scintellations, and by keeping it over the knob some fifteen or twenty seconds the ivory became ignited to a flame, and was considerably burnt, emitting a strong smell. This was repeated several times, and with different results—varying with the brilliancy of the aurora—and after its disappearance Mr. S. continued the experiment, but without perceiving anything unusual. We give this simple statement, leaving the scientific to measure and develop any importance it may contain.—Harrisburg Union.

THE OLDEST CHURCH IN AMERICA.—It was built in 1681, in the town of Hingham, Massachusetts, and is still occupied as a place of worship. The bell rope hangs down in the middle of the house, where it was placed in order that the bell might be rung instantly to give alarm of any sudden Indian incursion. There are many of the old fashioned square pews in the house, enclosed by what resembles more a high and substantial unpainted fence than anything to be seen in the modern church. The frame is of oak, and the beams are huge and numerous. The old house is good for two hundred years more. This old church has an old pastor, the Rev. Joseph Richardson, having preached in it for fifty-three years.

A FAMILY OF GOVERNORS.—The Boston Express, in an interesting historical sketch of the Boylston market, mentions the following noteworthy incident: Levi Lincoln, who signed the charter of the Boylston Market Association, as Governor of the Commonwealth, was the father of the last Governor, Levi Lincoln, and was Lieut. Gov. when Gov. Sullivan died, thereby becoming Governor. Governor Levi Lincoln, the elder, died at Worcester, April 14, 1820, aged 71. His widow, Martha, died at the same place, April, 1828, and was followed to the grave by two sons, both of them Governors—Levi, Governor of Massachusetts, and Enoch, Governor of Maine. There probably is no instance on record where a mother, and she the widow of a Governor, has been followed to the grave by two sons, themselves Governors of two States in our Union.

INCENDIARISM.—We are informed that on Thursday evening last, in Hopewell township, one of the most inhuman and fiendish acts was perpetrated that has ever disgraced our county. Three men in disguise, with blackened faces, went to a widow's house, darried her out, together with a few articles of her furniture, and then set fire to the house, and burnt it to the ground, leaving the poor woman to the cold charities of the world. No cause can be assigned why they committed this hellish deed.—At last accounts, a warrant had been issued for their arrest. It is to be hoped that they will receive a just reward for their doings.—Hunt. American.

PETRIFYING SPRING.—We are told there is a spring on the farm of William F. Davidson, of North Beaver township, in this county, (a short distance up the run from the rail road bridge,) the water of which petrifies, moss, wood, leaves, &c., that comes in contact with it. The spring is pretty strong and passes down almost perpendicular over a large rock—the water has rather a peculiar taste. It is quite a curiosity and may be the cause of scientific investigation hereafter. We have two pieces of the moss in our possession—one entirely petrified and the other partly so.—Lawrence Journal.

Important Arrest.

Several times during the past few months attempts have been made to throw the passenger trains on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad off the track at different points along the line.—The Cincinnati papers have some interesting disclosures concerning the wretches who undertook to accomplish the villainy. We condense the following:

The mayor of Cincinnati placed the whole matter in detective Reany's hands. Reany proceeded to the points where the attempts had been made, and by shrewd methods managed to ascertain who the parties were, and by a system of wireworking, ingratiated himself so thoroughly into their favor that he learned when and where the next effort would be made, and stealthily laying his plans he was rewarded by capturing two men in the very act. One of the gang informed Reany that his party had several times undertaken to throw the cars from the track for the purpose of robbing passengers in the confusion which would necessarily follow the accident, and that the intention was to place a log on the road near a steep bank on the night of the 30th, which, had the plan been carried out, it would have caused the loss of numerous lives.

Reany was expected to go to Mincennes and get on board the train, observe the car containing the passengers likely to have the most valuables, and when the train reached the spot where it was to be thrown off, to jump from the platform as best he could. Other persons in the league were to be stationed at the point where the accident would occur, and they were to assist in plundering the living, the dying and the dead. A compact had been formed by which various parties in case of an arrest, were to swear to the innocence of the prisoner, or do anything to prevent his punishment.

Of course, the dastardly outrage of throwing off the train did not take place, and on Wednesday morning the mayor received a telegram from Reany, dated at Clay city, stating that two scoundrels who had made the attempt had been arrested and lodged in jail at Salem Ill. This will probably be the first step towards breaking up another gang of the most desperate outlaws that infest the South or West.

SAVE THE MAN WITH THE RED HAIR.—It requires great coolness and experience to steer a canoe down these rapids, (the Sault St. Marie,) and a short time before our arrival (writes a correspondent,) two Americans had ventured to descend them without boatmen, and were consequently upset. As the story was reported to us, one of them owed his life to a singular coincidence. As the accident took place immediately opposite the town, many of the inhabitants were attracted to the bank of the river to watch the struggles of the unfortunate young men, thinking any attempt at a rescue would be hopeless. Suddenly, however, a person appeared rushing toward the groupe, frantic with excitement "Save the man with the red hair!" he vehemently shouted; and the exertions which were made in consequence of his earnest appeals proved successful, and the red-haired individual, in an exhausted condition, was safely landed—"He owes me eighteen dollars," said his rescuer, drawing a long breath, and looking approvingly on his assistants. The red-haired man's friend had not a creditor at the Sault, and, in default of competing claim, was allowed to pay the debt to nature. "And I'll tell you what it is," said the narrator of the foregoing incident, complacently drawing a moral thereform, "a man 'll never know how necessary he is to society if he don't make his life valuable to his friends as well as to himself.

☞ The extensive religious awakening in Ireland, greater than heretofore in that country, is extending to Scotland and Wales. It has reached the colliers of Staffordshire, and in one place it is estimated that there are five hundred converts. From among their own number a collier has been raised up who daily preaches the word with great power. In many of the coal-pits daily prayer meetings and Bible readings are held. In South Wales, so extraordinary is the revival interest, that all the churches and chapels are crowded on week days as well as Sundays. Prayer meetings in churches, in school rooms, in work shops, and even in fields, are held morning and evening. In one town eight public houses have been closed since the work began. It is now spreading into North Wales. A clergyman of the established Church writes: "There is no enthusiasm, but a deep, profound and awfully solemn impression." In some districts, notorious for blasphemy, an oath is now never heard, and drunkards in thousands have become total abstainers. It is estimated that in two counties only, 9,000 persons, within the last five months, have been converted.

A SECOND SAM PATCH ALMOST.—Several days ago a fellow hailing from Rockland county, New York, and calling himself Jim Patch, jumped from the mast-head of the sloop Sophia into the water below, a distance of eighty-five feet, at Albany N. Y. The sloop at the time laid at the lower dock, Sing Sing, in about seven feet of water. At the appointed time in the presence of about four hundred villagers Jim made his jump, firing a couple of pistols in his decent.—He struck the water and stuck in the mud, and that was the last that was seen of him until a young man made a drive from the deck and brought him up by the hair. By the aid of a boat hook he was dragged ashore. After rolling him on a barrel he was restored to consciousness.

☞ An engineer was walking on the levee at St. Louis, one day last week, when a nimble thief snatched his watch, a valuable gold hunter, and ran off at a speed that bid fair to defy pursuit. It so happened, however, that the party robbed had with him a large Newfoundland dog, and instead of troubling himself by running, he spoke a few words confidently to his four-footed companion. Off started the noble animal, and before the theif had gone many blocks he was dragged to the earth and secured by his singular captor. The fellow thought fit to submit to the warrant displayed—two full rows of formidable teeth—and made no resistance to the majesty of the law.

LOCAL ITEMS.

DISTINGUISHED (?) VISITOR!—For a few days last week, the town topic of conversation, (humorous, among patriots; grave, among toadyists) was milord, the Hon. Mr. Berkley, a titled huntsman, from England, who spent a day or two of rest at the "Logan House," preparatory to taking a great buffalo hunt in the West.—Toadyism, we are sorry—aye, ashamed—to say, was manifested in the visit of milord, by a good share of our citizens, especially on the morning of his departure. The desire to get a good sight of the "critter" was so great that many of our people even neglected their daily business, and gathered in a crowd greater than ever greeted the arrival of the many great and good Americans who have visited our place; merely to look upon the features of a master over white slaves in lord-cursed Britain. We despise such toadyism and will always deprecate it. We doubt much that a single man who visited the Logan House on Saturday morning, for the single purpose of seeing the English Lord, ever gave one cent toward the raising of the monument to the Father of our Country. We know that had each one present on this celebrated occasion contributed one cent to this laudable object, the contents of the box in the Post Office, for the last month, would have been much more than NINETY-NINE CENTS! Shame!

As to the Englishman, we saw him, accidentally, from our office window, and we do not recollect to have seen a better specimen of the cockney species in our life—dressed after the style of an hostler in our city livery stables.—There was nothing attractive about him that we could discover; his countenance indicating about brains enough to write an English Book, entitled "American Manners and Customs," in which any amount of misrepresentations might be found. This is the man some of our people went to see, on Saturday morning. Well, our mighty Englishman is now in the far West, and we hope our western hunters will treat him to such a Buffalo Hunt as will indemnify him in the great amount of money (the sweat of better men's brows) which his trip must cost him.

☞ From George B. Ayres new descriptive Hand Book of the Pennsylvania Rail Road we copy the following notice of Altoona:—

Altoona, (Philadelphia 239 miles—Pittsburgh 117 miles,) the great centre of the road's operations, is one of those children of modern progress which have been "born into the world" along all the great railroads in the country—Some half dozen years ago, its site was marked only by a dilapidated log hut, whose "solitary" inhabitant was the precursor of the five thousand industrious citizens which the town now contains.

Marking, as this point does, an important change in the character of the road-grades, East and West, and proving an essential locality for the Main Shops of the Company, it was obliged, from the force of circumstances, to become the important place it now is.

The office of the General Superintendent, Thomas A. Scott, Esq.—than whom there is no more able and efficient railroad officer in the country—is located here, and occupies the handsome building just in the rear of the hotel.

The mechanical operations at this place comprise machine and car-shops, iron and brass foundries, shops for blacksmiths, painters, trimmers, pattern-makers, tinners, and workers in sheet iron, departments for setting up locomotives, and for making boilers and iron bridges; together with a company store-room—from which the shops at other places are principally supplied—and the necessary offices to preserve the varied accounts. There are also two engine-houses, the larger of which is an extra building, able to accommodate twenty-six locomotives and tenders.

The immediate supervision of the machine-shop here is conducted by Lewis C Brastow; car-shop, by C. R. Hostetter; paint-shop, by Ralph Greenwood; and the Accounts, by B. F Custer, chief clerk of Motive Power.

To the great credit of the numerous employees of the road, we record the existence of the "Altoona Mechanics' Library and Reading Room Association," an organization aided by the Company, and which is in abounding prosperity.

"MERCANTILE SPECULATION."—For the first time, we yesterday had the pleasure of listening to one of Mr. Duff's Lectures on Business, at the Merchants' College, Fifth street. The subject was "Mercantile Speculation," and it was treated by Mr. Duff in a manner fully sustaining his high reputation as a lecturer. The lecture abounded in useful suggestions for those who desire to pursue a successful mercantile career, and the folly of chimerical speculation was most fully exposed.

The lecture furnished to the students many valuable suggestions in selecting their future lines of business—relating the successes that might be obtained in some particular branches of mercantile business. In fact the lecture embraced many interesting topics to the business men, which have seldom, if ever, been explained before by any lecturer. Mr. Duff is not only eminent as an accountant, but ranks among the first as a mercantile lecturer, and he has reduced the merchants' profession to a science.—Being a practical accountant, we would certainly prefer Mr. Duff's fruition to that of merely theoretical teachers whatever may be their attainments.—Pittsburgh Commercial Journal.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—Const. Boyer, of this place, in company with Miss Dorcas Cox, attended the Port Matilda Camp-Meeting, last Sabbath, in a buggy; and, in the afternoon, they started across the Ridge to attend a meeting of the Quakers, near Stormstown; but, while going down the Ridge, and when opposite a steep bank, the horse suddenly frightened and jumped down the bank about twenty-five feet, breaking the buggy to pieces, and entangling himself in the wreck so that he had to be lifted off of both Boyer and Miss Cox, who fell under him, and, strange to say, neither was badly hurt. Boyer had a leg somewhat bruised, and Miss Cox an eye slightly injured.—Tyrone Star.

CORN HUSKING THIMBLES.—The attention of farmers and corn huskers is directed to the advertisement of Gould & Co's. Corn Husking Thimbles, which are said to be the best articles of the kind ever invented, besides being "dirt cheap."

SEALING-WAX FOR FRUIT CANS.—Don't buy sealing-wax for your bottles of fruit, or fruit juice, called wine, or anything else that you want to seal up for future use. Make it yourself. "How?" We will tell you. These are the ingredients:

Take some cheap iron vessel that you can always keep for the purpose, and put in the rosin and melt it, and stir in the vermilion. Then add the shellac, slowly, and stir that in, and afterward the beeswax. When wanted for use at any after time, set it upon a slow fire and melt it so you can dip bottle-nozzles in or pour it into the crevice of your fruit can. Recollect that the vermilion is only put in for the looks of the thing, and if you want to use it for any purpose where color is no object, as for instance in sealing over wounds upon trees, you may leave the color out. The ingredients for the above cost only from 25 to 37½ cents, for which, and a little trouble, you can have three quarters of a pound of good sealing-wax for any common use. For any purpose, such as an application to trees, where you want it tougher than the above proportions will make it, add a little more beeswax, and leave out the vermilion.

MAPS AND CHARTS.—We have just examined a handsome lot of maps and charts now being offered for sale by Mr. Hunter, who is stopping at the Altoona House. Among the maps we noticed one of the latest maps of the U. S., on which the counties are conspicuously marked off; also, one styled the "Cottage Ornament," and it is indeed an ornament, one which must be seen to be admired; also, two small embelished maps of the U. S. Among his charts we noticed one of the Presidents together with the Declaration of Independence; one of the Crucifixion of Christ, one of the Last Supper, and others, all handsome, and, we think, very cheap.

MILITARY.—On Saturday last, the Guards and Rifle Rangers were not on parade, both making a very credible appearance. We were pleased to observe quite a number of new members among the Guards. Capt. H. W. Snyder tendered his resignation as Captain of the Guards, which was accepted by the company. We understand that Maj. Wehn is to take command of the company at the approaching encampment. We believe both the Guards and Rangers intend turning out strong in numbers at Camp Logan.

MISTAKE.—The Harrisburg Telegraph of Monday evening, locates Camp Logan at Altoona.—This is a mistake; it should have located it at Tyrone, where it is to open on Monday next, and a "high old time" generally is expected. We have no desire to rob our neighbors down the road of any visitors who might, though the notice of the Telegraph, be induced to visit the Encampment, and therefore make mention of the error in order that it may be corrected.

REMOVAL.—Esquire Cherry has again removed his office to the opposite side of the steet, and taken quarters in a new building next door to Kessler's store, and almost opposite his old stand. His new office is neatly papered and fixed up and he looks quite comfortable. Those who wish anything in the line of fine jewelry, or a watch or clock to repaired, or a sight of the "elephant" in the way of law and justice, can be accommodated by calling on the Squire.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—We learn from the Tyrone Star, that D. J. Neff, Esq., has accepted an invitation from Tyrone Division, No 325, S. of T., to deliver a public lecture on the subject of temperance, in the Methodist Episcopal Church of that place, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 21st. Adjoining Divisions and the public generally are ivited to attend.

RELIGIOUS.—In the absence of Rev. S. Creighton, of the M. E. Church, on next Sabbath, his pulpit will be filled by Rev. Jas. Clark, of Birmingham. Mr. Clark is a young man, and has but recently entered the ministry, yet his efforts are highly spoken of by the press of Huntingdon and other places.

FAST HORSES.—On Monday morning last, the celebrated trotting nags, Flora Temple and Princess, passed through this place on the Express train Westward, on their way to the National Agricultural Fair, to be held at Chicago, which opened yesterday.

JUVENILE SINGING SCHOOL.—Prof. G. W. Huey, is expected to commence a course of lessons in vocal music, in the Lecture Room of the Presbyterian Church, on to-morrow (Friday) morning. We have noticed Prof. H. heretofore, and deem it unnecessary to add anything at this time.

WANTED.—All persons who are indebted to us to call immediately and settle accounts, as we are going East in a few days to make our fall purchases. We hope no one will feel at liberty to withhold the amount they owe us now when we need it most.

J. & J. LOWTHER.

NOTICE.—The fourth instalment on the capital Stock of the Altoona Gas and Water Company will be due and made payable at the Banking House of Wm. M. Lloyd & Co., on the 16th day of September.

"MISERY LOVES COMPANY."—At a camp-meeting in East Kingston, New Humpshire, a deputy sheriff was arrested for peddling cakes and pies without a license. After paying his fine—$5 and costs—he arrested Elder J. V. Himes for selling "Second Advent" books, who was fined like the sheriff, but he refused to pay and went to jail, confident that the millenium had not yet come.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poison, Chilblains, Biles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small-Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its opposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

Diseases of the Liver.

When the celebrated Dr. Rush declared that drunkenness was a disease, he enunciated a truth which the experience and observation of medical men is every day confirming. The many apparently insane excesses of those who indulge in the use of spirituous liquors, may be thus accounted for. The true cause of conduct, which is taken for infatuation, is very frequently a diseased state of the Liver. No organ in the human system, when deranged, produces a more frightful catalogue of diseases. And if, instead of applying remedies to the manifestations of disease, as is too often the case, physicians would prescribe with a view to the original cause, fewer deaths would result from diseases induced by a deranged state of the Liver. Three-fourths of the diseases enumerated under the head of Consumption, have their seat in a diseased Liver. Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., are a certain cure.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine unless the signature of FLEMING BROS.

A Voice From Virginia.

CABIN POINT, Surry Co., Va.

Dr. Seth S. Hance:—I was in Baltimore in April, 1854, and from a paper I received of yours was induced to buy a box of your Pills, recommended as a sovereign cure for the Epileptic Fits At that time one of my servants had been afflicted with fits about twelve years. When reaching home, I commenced with the Pills according to directions. I do not think she has had one since My wife, though, is somewhat induced to believe she may have had one only. Enclosed you will find five dollars, for which you will please forward me two boxes. I suppose you can forward them by mail. Your compliance will oblige me. Yours respectfully.

M. P. SLEDGE.

Dr. Hance's Epileptic Pills are also a sovereign remedy for every modification of nervous disease. The nervous sufferer, whether tormented by the acute, physical agony of neuralgia, tic doloreaux, or ordinary headache, afflicted with vague terrors, weakened by periodical fits, threatened with paralysis, borne down and dispirited by that terrible lassitude which proceeds from a lack of nervous energy, or experiencing any other pain or disability arising from the unnatural condition of the wonderful machinery which connects every member with the source of sensation, motion and thought—derives immediate benefit from the use of those pills, which at once calms, invigorates, and regulates the shattered nervous organization.

Sent to any part of the country by mail, free of postage. Address Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md. Price, one box, $3; two do. $5; twelve do, $24.

☞ Physicians are generally loth to speak a word in praise of what are called "patent medicines." Indeed, it is an article in the code of medical ethics, that a physician who sanctions the use of such remedies cannot be considered a member of the National Association. But there are exceptions to the most stringent rules, and many of the disciples of Esculapius have actually been compelled, by the force of facts, to recommend the use of DR. J. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, for those diseases which are particularly prevalent during the summer and fall.—They have ascertained that there are no remedies in the pharmacopia which can compare with this wonderful compound for derangement of the system. Thousands of families residing along the low grounds of the Western and Southern rivers, are now convinced that they have found a medicine peculiarly adapted for their ailments, while in other portions of the country, during the summer months, the demand for the article is equally large.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally.

☞ The heavens were illuminated on the evening of August 28th, 1859, by the most splendid Aurora Borealis ever seen in the Country. Rays of parti-colored light flashed across the sky, and the changes were beautiful in the extreme. At one time a rapt observer remarked, that he fancied he could see the sparkling lights form them selves into the following words: Buy all your garments at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, No's 603 and 605 Chestnut St., above Sixth, Philadelphia.

TOOTHACHE.

This disease can be cured by DR. KEYSER'S TOOTHACHE REMEDY prepared by him in Pittsburgh, Pa., which is put up in bottles and sold at 25 cents each. IRON FINGER NAILS FOR HUSKING CORN.—Gould's Patent Husking Thimbles is the only implement known that will entirely protect the fingers from the evils of excoriation, &c., common to husking corn by hand.

We are now in possession of over 200,000 letters of approval, over the signatures of reliable farmers and planters in different localities in the U. S., equally as flattering as the following.

READ! READ! READ!
THE HUSKING THIMBLE CAN'T be BEAT.

MESSRS GOULD & CO—Sirs:—I send enclosed $1 for six pairs of your celebrated Husking Thimbles. I bought a pair of you last fall and I have used them for husking ever since. If there are any who don't think worth while to buy a pair, let them tear their finger nails off: for one, I won't. They will outwear anything of the kind I ever saw, and for husking they can't be beat.

Yours truly, WM. MORROW.

PROSPECTUS OF A NEW WORK
BY EMERSON BENNETT,
Author of "Clara Moreland," "Prairie Flower," "The Refugees," "Blanche Bertrand," "The Artist's Bride," &c., &c., entitled

WILD SCENES ON THE FRONTIERS; OR HEROES OF THE WEST.

This Work, is the only one in Book form, which for several years has emanated from the pen of the gifted author, who treads now alone the path once trodden by our own Cooper. It will contain graphic pictures of the conflicts of the hardy Pioneer, whose strifes and struggles with his Indian foe, rival the tales of fiction, and the tragic counterfeits of the mimic stage. Also thrilling narratives of the daring deeds, the heart-trials, the heroic devotion and self-denial of noble women, the mothers of the West! Beneath the over-arching forests, hand to hand, and foot to foot, the intrepid adventurer has encountered in deadly combat the ruffian desperadoes who made their haunts in the backwoods, and his gallant achievements have thrown a halo of romance over the waving prairies, the grand old mountains, and the majestic rivers of the land of the setting sun!

Nor are these pages wanting in those gentler scenes which make up home-life, and which are pictured with all the skill and fidelity for which the author is pre-eminently distinguished. His delineation of Frontier character, and of the scenery of the Borders, has always the advantage of an accuracy which is the result of an intimate, personal acquaintance.

The Work will be printed on fine white paper, in clear, open type, and appropriately and beautifully illustrated by the most skillful artists. 12mo., Cloth. Price, 1.25.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,
The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I am not dependant upon any one to fit me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

Altoona, May 26–3m JACOB SNYDER.

EXCHANGE HOTEL.—THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully inform the public that he has recently refitted the above Hotel, and is now prepared to accommodate his friends and patrons in a comfortable manner, and he will spare no pains in making it an agreeable home for all sojourners. His Table will always be luxuriously supplied from the markets of the country and cities, and his Bar filled with liquors of choice brands. His charges are as reasonable as those of any other Hotel in the place, and he feels satisfied they can not be complained of by those who favor him with their custom. Expecting to receive a share of public patronage, and fully intending to deserve it, he throws open his house to the public and invites a trial.

I have just received a stock of No. 1 French Brandy, for medicinal purposes.

Also a large stock of excellent Wines, for medicinal purposes, together with a lot of the best old Rye Whiskey to be found in the country.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

☞ Sold by G W Kessler and A Roush, Altoona; G A Jacobs, J K Patton and W G Murray, Hollidaysburg; and S Berlin, Tyrone. [Aug. 25, 1859–1y

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT
Read the following Certificate to the Efficacy of this Medicine in Inflammatory Diseases.

"For the last twelve years I have been more or less troubled with Inflammatory Rheumatism, commencing early in the Spring, and lasting until cold weather set in, when I would be relieved for a while, only to be attacked again in the Spring. All my joints would swell and be very sore, attended with the most acute pain. My feet, shoulders, arms, and hands troubl d me most, so much so that I could scarcely walk, and almost always required assistance in dressing. During this time I would try everything I could hear of, in the hope of finding a cure. I also tried several physicians, but nothing seemed to help me in the least in the world. About two and a half years ago I was attacked as usual, and as usual tried everything to get rid of it, but to no purpose. I kept growing worse, and finally had to give up and stay in the house, where I was confined about four weeks. This time my feet swelled, and were so sore that I could not stand on them or get on my boots, and my hands swelled to twice their usual size. In fact, I was, to all appearances and belief, totally used up. About this time my parents, who reside in Maine, sent for me to come home. I went and after my arrival I commenced trying another remedy, hopins to be cured, but resulting the same as all others. For weeks I had not been able to dress myself or to raise my hand to my head, and suffered the most excruciating pain all the time.—One day my father came in with a paper in which was advertised Dr. Coggswell's MEDICAL SALT, for Inflammatory Diseases only, and wanted me to read and see what I thought of it. I read and laughed at it, pronounced it a humbug, and told him that I had been humbugged enough. He kept urging me, and at last said I could but try it, and if I would write to Dr. C., giving him a description of my disease, he would pay the expense. Of course I could not refuse such an offer and sent for one box. It came in due season, but my faith was not increased, and I laughed at the idea of so small a dose doing me any good, and told my wife that I believed Dr. C. and his Salt both humbugs.—However, I commenced using it and the result was perfectly astonishing. I could hardly realize it myself. I slept soundly all night, which I had not done for a long time, and when I awoke in the morning, strange as it may seem, I was entirely free from pain. I had then taken but one dose, and bathed freely before going to bed. That morning I felt so well that I hardly knew how to contain myself, and went down stairs and told the folks how well I felt, and from that day to this I have not suffered one moment's pain or had an attack of my once dreaded enemy, Rheumatism. I am perfectly well and hearty, and wherever I have a chance I recommend it. A friend of mine, residing in Brooklyn, is now trying it for a bad case of neuralgic rheumatism, and so far it is working admirably.—This is a long story, but I have told all the facts, which I can bring witnesses to substantiate if necessary; and will again say that in the MEDICAL SALT, a sure cure may be found for all inflammatory diseases, and would urge all who are afflicted to give it a trial. GEO. H. DUNCAN.
No. 117 Wall Street, New York.

When it is remembered that the MEDICAL SALT is as efficacious in all other Inflammatory diseases as in Rheumatism, (see descriptive circulars) it will at once be seen that it is a most valuable remedy. Surely those thus afflicted will find in their own condition and in the above statements enough to induce them to give the MEDICAL SALT a trial.

Price $1,00; Chronic packages, $2,50.

NEW AGRICULTURAL SETTLEMENT.—To all seeking Farms, a rare opportunity in a delightful and healthy climate 25 miles Southeast of Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad New Jersey.

An old estate consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the Middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre, the soil is of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vineyards and Peach orchards, planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,

as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION.

Produce bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price than the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle States, he is near his old friends and associations, he is in a settled country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand. He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fever are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place, good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages there presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see land under cultivation such is the extent of the settlement that they will in detail, meet persons, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a Free Ticket for six months, and a half-price Ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kinds of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Best business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Foundries for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would effect the improvement of the place, can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land, leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton, by Railroad, at 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 232 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia.—Maps and information cheerfully furnished.
